Message from President's Desk

"Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another; do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly; never be conceited. Repay no one evil for evil, but take thought for what is noble in the sight of all. If possible, so far as it depends upon you, live peaceably with all." (Romans 12:15-18). These verses speak of the right attitude towards others and the importance of empathy and concern for the poor and the marginalized that we should cultivate to maintain peace in the community. Such efforts would help us to establish good relationship with the community, especially with those who are weak. Sincere love and concern inspire a person to recognize and to share the happiness and sorrows of others. Social work should help us to connect with the people in their highs and lows. Our interactions should help the community to increase their awareness and understanding on various concepts of social development. Community should be organized and capacitated to assist themselves for the development of the its individuals. Whichever be the community, it is the initiative and active participation of the members that determine the development of it. Members in the community must identify their needs and plan out actions to solve the issues of their area. People should own the process and they should feel that it is their responsibility, being part of the society, to contribute for its development. This process should give space for all the members, even the poorest among the poor, to express their opinion for the welfare of the community.

I am confident that Kripa Social Welfare Society (KSWs) is reaching out to all the members in the villages/slums where it works irrespective of caste, creed and language. KSWs is bound to work for the building up human communities where all enjoy equal rights and opportunities, permeated with the values of peace, harmony, concern for environment and sensitivity to the needy. Kripa is working to actualize its vision by organizing the unorganized people through the formation of community based organizations such as women self help groups (840), children's parliaments (75), adolescent groups (44) and farmers groups (35) in its target area. As a second step, KSWs capacitates the community on various developmental concepts to ensure the active participation of the community members for the development of their villages. Constant capacity building programmes facilitate the people to bring changes in their attitude towards the development of community and its members. I am happy to endorse the yearly activity report of Kripa Social Welfare Society for the financial year 2018-2019. KSWs has tried its best to bring out a comprehensive description of its yearly activities as well as the results in this yearly report.

I take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to different funding agencies for their constant financial and technical help to KSWs to actualize its vision, mission and objectives. I also express our sincere thanks to different government departments for the technical support extended to KSWs for the welfare of the poor and the marginalized people, especially the women and the children in the target area. I appreciate the hard work and commitment of Kripa team to the cause of the poor and the marginalized. These efforts of KSWs should bring about a positive change and transformation in the target group. May this effort of Kripa help the poor, the oppressed and the marginalized to lead a life worthy of their human dignity.

Bp. Dr. Sebastian Vadakel
Bishop of Ujjain & President of KSWs

From the Director's Desk

Since last 27 years Kripa Social Welfare Society has been working in the field of social development. Kripa has played different roles in these years to bring changes in the life of the people and of the community. Kripa has started its work in the charity mode and then changed to animation and has adopted the people led approach. All these years Kripa Social Welfare Society has learned many things from the funding agencies, allied systems and from the people. "Today as a change maker Kripa has adopted the new method adopting the role of influencing the people rather than doing things in the villages." Kripa is convinced that people shall be the real heroes in the community for the development of their villages. Organisation has to prepare the atmosphere for the people to take up their responsibilities in helping people to improve the living conditions and quality of life of individuals and the Society as a whole.

Kripa Social Welfare Society has been working in 315 village and slum areas of four districts. The aim of Kripa is to build human communities where all enjoy equal rights and opportunities, permeated with the values of peace, harmony, concern for environment and sensitivity to the needy. Our organization has been involved in the community development through multi-dimensional social welfare programme such as women empowerment, child rights & child protection, health, livelihood promotion, agriculture & natural resource management programmes, good governance and gender. The strategy adopted by KSWS for community mobilization is organizing people through the formation of community based organizations and capacity building of community by providing training to them on various subjects related to their life. Kripa also is committed towards the protection of nature and natural resources. Kripa motivates the farmers in the villages to adopt traditional farming, organic farming, adopt multi-crops farmers in the field, tree plantation and to avoid the excess use of chemical fertilizers. Another area of its concentration is promotion of vegetable garden in each family in the villages. Kripa Works among the children to empower them on child rights. Our organization is working in institutional set up as well as community level to support the children who are in need of care and protection and children who are in conflict with law. In the health sector our organization works among people with HIV/AIDS. Saathi the unit of Kripa Social Welfare Society exclusively works among the PLHAs. It works to prevent society from HIV/AIDS and to care the PLHAS. Saathi has got different activities for the welfare of the PLHAS. KSWS also works on TB, Malnutrition, adolescent girls and health & nutrition at community level. Good governance and promotion of peace and harmony is another area of KSWS's work. KSWS works among the children, adolescent, women and farmers in the slums and villages in four district of Madhya Pradesh.

Kripa is very happy to acknowledge the contribution of many dedicated people for the successful implementation of various projects in the field. I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to our target groups, priests, religious sisters, funding agencies, government officials, bankers, field staff, office staff, governing body, our well-wishers and all who are helping us to realise the mission, vision and objectives of Kripa Social Welfare Society.

Head office is well equipped with basic facilities and branch office with basic amenities which are required to run an office in a professional manner. Beside these infrastructure Kripa is operated from different local offices. All these places local administration of the Diocese of Ujjain has provided needed infrastructural facilities to implement the programmes in surrounding villages and slums.

Kripa Team:

Kripa Social Welfare Society has very strong, motivated and experienced team consisting of, Social workers, trainers, accountant, support staff and field workers. These team members are rendering their service in different fields (part-time and full time) to achieve the vision, mission and objectives of the organisation. There are 68 staff and 32 volunteers working in the organisation. One staff among these 68 is getting more than Rs. 20000/- as per month salary. 12 staff in the organisation is drawing salary between Rs.10000- Rs. 20000/-. Other staff get salary between Rs.6000 to Rs. 10000/- per month.

Agriculture and Natural Resource Management

The main source of earning for target community is agriculture. Hence it is inevitable for Kripa to work among the farmers for their economic development. Farmers of the area are doing chemical, mono and cash crops. Over use of chemical fertilizers and pesticides have spoiled the productive capacity of the soil. Cash crops reduced the food sovereignty of the farmers. Traditional crops, mixed cropping and organic farming have been disappeared from the area. Kripa Social Welfare Society works among the farmers to bring them back to eco friendly profitable agriculture. Kripa has organised 1665 activities related to agriculture among the community such as awareness on organic farming, mixed cropping, integrated pest management, climate change, vermi compost, traditional crops, seed bank, pest management, water, soil conservation, tree plantation and Kitchen garden. Beside these subjects KSWs also organised training to the farmers on schemes from Horticulture department, mixed cropping, storage of traditional seeds, food cropping, and food security. Farmers were facilitated on sustainable climate resilience agricultural practices, seed management, climate change, issues related to agriculture, schemes of agriculture departments, indigenous food practice and agriculture practices, traditional storage system and seed bank. Through these activities Kripa has covered 20884 participants.

Efforts of Kripa have brought changes in the target area. Organic and traditional farming was adopted by 1099 farmers and 1217 households have done kitchen garden. Tree plantation was done by 120 households and 1381 farmers are doing mixed cropping, 218 households kept traditional seeds for next cropping season. Farmers from 28 families stopped buying seeds from market, 135 farmers have done the soil testing, 118 farmers have done farm bunds in their fields either by their own resources or by the resources from the government. Project could identify 1088 families who are using traditional food and uncultivated vegetables in their meal in the target area. Vermi compost pits were made by 22 households.

Livelihood and Skill Development Programme

The rural community is constituted of rich farmers, small farmers, marginalized farmers and landless farmers. 97% of this population depends on agriculture and allied system for their livelihood. Quite majority of this population is expert in agriculture but not in other means of livelihood options. Agriculture is a seasonal as well as climate oriented source of income. If climate is favorable people have work and money if not they have to face difficulties. Majority of them do not have alternative sources to earn their livelihood in their villages. Hence Kripa Social Welfare Society provides different capacity building programmes to community for their empowerment. Kripa has arranged 274 awareness programmes in the community covering 4543 participants on income generation programmes, entrepreneurship development programmes, micro finance, animal husbandry, organic farming, milk dairy, dairy farm and life skill trainings, 265 members were taken for exposure programmes. Twenty six batches of skill training programmes were organized for the dropout youth and women in the villages on tailoring, mushroom, artificial jewellery, soap making, air condition, security guard, mobile repairing and dairy farm etc. These skill development programmes provided opportunity for 647 individuals to learn and develop skills on any of the aforesaid trades.

Kripa has helped women in the community to form their own Self Help Groups to develop saving habits in them as well as to use the saving for their own economic development. Women in the SHGs have raised a good amount of money in their groups which helped them to provide loan to 1226 members of Self Help Groups to start their own income generation units worth Rs. 14689571. Women have developed confidence to interact with bankers and as a result 803 women began income generation units worth Rs. 8068890 from banks and other 360 women started income generation units taking advance from revolving fund (Kripa) worth Rs. 5270000. Mostly women have started income generation units and they are earning additional income from their new initiative. 99% of women have repaid their loan to the sources from where they have taken the loan. Women are ready to take risk to take loan , invest the loan properly and give back the loan with great responsibility.

Health

Kripa Social Welfare Society works among the community on health promotion and disease prevention through different activities and awareness programmes. Society promotes and motivates the patients whom it comes across in the field for better treatment either in government hospitals or in private hospitals. Saathi the wing of Kripa Social Welfare Society renders its services in the field as well as in the institutions for the welfare of the people living with HIV/AIDS. Entire programme related to HIV/AIDS under Kripa is being implemented and monitored by Saathi.

Training programmes on need of HIV testing, HIV, TB, STI, good touch, bad touch, importance of institutional delivery, breast feeding, Saathi and its services were conducted by Saathi with community, youth, ANC, AAW, HW, schools and colleges. Saathi has conducted testing programme in 918 villages and slums of Ujjain district and covered 8000 people. Mutual Support Group Meeting, Nutritious Support Programmes, Coordination Meeting, Quarterly Meeting of Children, Education Support (School bag, pen, pencil, books) home visits, counselling for healthy and positive living, ART adherence, CD4, home based care, ANC and PNC follow ups, Income Generation Programme, Vocational Training and exhibitions and rallies were the other welfare services provided by Saathi to the PLHAS. Besides this Saathi care home provides IP and OP services to PLHAS registered under Saathi. Kripa has conducted training to community on TB, HIV AIDs and STI, personal hygiene, reproductive health, pre and post natal care, need of nutritious food, malnutrition and factors causing malnutrition, government schemes related to health, drug de-addiction etc. Kripa has reached out 13700 households in 54 villages of Rajgarh district with TB awareness programme. Organisation has organised 1680 activities and 37735 people were part of these activities.

Awareness programmes among the ANC in different villages have motivated pregnant women to go for the HIV/AIDs test. Saathi could identify 33 HIV/ AIDs positive pregnant women and does continue follow up of identified cases due to which four new children were born negative from positive mothers. Testing programme at community level has identified 94 new HIV/AIDs patients and these patients were given accompaniment to reach ICTC and ART for further treatment. Self Help Groups have given loan to 86 members worth Rs. 588720/- for the treatment purpose. It shows that communities have started to spend money on their health too. Awareness programmes have brought attitudinal changes in some mothers and anganwadi workers towards the health of their children. Mothers with the assistance of anganwadi workers have taken 46 malnourished children to nutritional rehabilitation centers and these children have regained their health. Mothers have taken 774 children to anganwadi for Vitamin A drops. Community was being given awareness on the benefits of Moringa oleifera plant and 100 families have planted the Moringa oleifera plants.. Saathi has got a total of 2811 PLHA patients registered. At present Saathi is in touch with 231 infected children and 181 affected people in the community. Saathi also works among children who are infected and affected. Two boardings are being run by Saathi and 27 children (14 boys and 13 girls) are getting care, protection and education. PLHAs have taken initiative to tap government schemes related to health and 263 PLHAs tapped worth Rs. 927400 and other 294 people in the community tapped under different schemes (JSY, LLY, nutritional support, disability pension, Aayushman bharat yojna etc) worth Rs. 1397550/- . 201 adolescent girls have approached anganwadies and tapped schemes related to them and 734 women and children received vaccination from the anganwadies.

Child Rights and Child Protection

Kripa is committed to protect the rights of the children. Kripa implements its activities related to children in two set ups; that is at community level and institutional level. Kripa works among the children who are in need of care and protection, children who are in conflict with law, child labours, dropout children, normal children and adolescent girls. Different activities are designed for each category of the children. Kripa collaborates with the government departments to rescue the child labourers, child beggars and to stop child marriage.

Kripa has organised facilitation meeting with children on child rights, Children's Parliament, education related schemes, constitutional rights, child line and its services etc. At community level to capacitate the children on their rights. Children have organised rallies to give public awareness on health, hygiene, social issues and organic farming. Tree plantation, non-formal education, exposure programmes of children to allied system, awareness to community on child rights, Child Line Se Dosti Programme, signature campaign, tying CSD ribbon, essay, rangoli and sports competition, follow up of cases, rescue of child labour, child beggars were the other activities conducted in the community level for the welfare of the children. At institutional level Kripa has organised different celebrations like birth days, important religious and national feasts, children's day and summer camp. Skill trainings were offered to children on AC repairing, tailoring, macramé, paper craft, wood craft etc. Training programmes like yoga and music were offered to children at institutional level. Follow up visits were done to police stations to ensure a child friendly atmosphere. Different projects have conducted 1797 activities and 71747 children were part of these activities.

Different capacity building programmes and meeting of children's parliament have empowered the children to come together and discuss together to identify the issues associated to their life and to find solution for the issues. Children's parliaments have identified 27 issues and have found solution for 23 issues related to their life. Staff has assisted 23 children to get admission in open school and has helped 63 dropout children to get admission in the formal schools. All these dropout children were regular in the school and 50 children have won the exam.

Children in the children's parliament are familiar with the services of Child Line. Thirty children from different villages and slums approached Child Line to make their certificates like disability, SSSM ID, birth certificate etc. Child Line has assisted 502 children who are in need of care and protection. These children are coming under different categories (Medical case: 17, Shelter related case: 58, Child Lost: 107, Missing case: 21, protection from abuse: 143 (L. 36, B. 24 and M. 104), sponsorship 116, ES&G: 25, help to other CL: 15). Kripa's intervention in Juvenile Justice Homes really helps the children in the homes. Kripa runs two non-formal schools in the slum area and 80 children are benefiting from the school. 31 children have tapped government schemes worth Rs. 113300/-.

Good Governance

Active involvement of community brings sustainable changes in the community with their own involvement in planning, implementing and evaluating the programmes. Lively association of the people in the community enhances the responsiveness, accountability and transparency in the community. Participation in good governance promotes able local leaders from the locality and capacitates the community to take good decisions towards economic, social, environmental and other areas of development. It encourages arbitration, resource allocation, negotiation, maintenance of key relationships and main streaming in the community. Altogether 1200 activities were conducted and 20649 participants came for the activities.

Kripa social welfare society has organized various trainings on social issues, leadership, public hearing, Gvt. scheme, social security schemes, Gram Sabha, Micro Plan etc. To the community especially to the women in the Self Help Groups. The intention of these trainings were to organise the community as well as to provide leadership skills to the local leaders. Many local leaders in different villages have come forward to develop the village development plans to find solution for their common issues. These local leaders have mobilised the community and took the lead to find solution for many of the issues identified by them with the community.

Such mobilisation has assisted 1745 community members to submit applications in the Gram Sabha and different government departments to tap social security schemes and other schemes from government departments.

Community under the leadership of local leaders identified more than 800 social issues and prioritized 172 issues out of which 34 issues were solved by their committed efforts. Community have come forward for voluntary work and solved 3 issues by voluntary work. Participation in the Gram Sabha has been increased. More than seven thousand people participated in the Gram sabha raising their issues and 436 people have attended the public hearing to find solution for their problems. Community members have tapped 1767 government schemes worth Rs. 27032788/-.

KRIPA

Empowerment programmes:

The development of any community is based on the existence of peace and harmony among different communities. If community is divided in terms of religion, culture and language then that will lead to many confusion and lack of coexistence. Organised community surpasses all the obstacles faced by them and they cater cooperation, collaboration, unity, oneness and we feeling among them and they stand for the development of the community at large and enhancement of the individuals in short. Kripa Social Welfare society reaches out to the villages and slums and interacts with the people through constant field visits, home visits, interaction and networking to organise the people through the formation of the community based organisations. Effort of Kripa Social Welfare Society has bore fruit and has formed 840 Self Help Groups with 12763 members, 35 farmers groups (623), 44 adolescent groups (450), 75 children parliaments (2127) and 39 core groups with 449 members. Women in the Self Help Groups have saved Rs. 62278373/- in their groups as saving and they take loan from the self help groups for income generation programmes, agriculture purpose, education, treatment, housing and other purposes.

Staff Development programmes

Kripa Social Welfare Society has organised different in-house trainings to its staff during this reporting period. Kripa has sent its staff to attend external training too. All these trainings and exposure programmes have really capacitated the staff to render their services for the welfare of the community especially the women and children.

Networking, Liaison and Capacity Building

Kripa Social Welfare Society believes that net-working with Government Departments, like-minded NGOs, local governments are basic for achieving the goal of any project. Hence Kripa has established networking with different government departments like Educational Department, Agriculture Department, Horticulture department, KVK, Forest Department, NRC, Police Department, Health Department, Child Welfare Committee, Social Justice Department, Women and Child Development department for the effective implementation as well as the capacity building of target communities. KNH, Social Justice Department, NABARD, AHF, CRS, FVTRS, Caritas India, Miserior and Kindermissionwerk are our donors who support KSWs financially and technically to accomplish its mission and visions. Kripa has established a good relationship with MPSS, MPVSS, MPISSR, Jan Shikshan Sanstan, Nashamukti Kendra, Social work department of Vikram University and Ambekar Peet to bring changes in the community through a collective effort. This reporting time is an opportunity to remember the contribution given by above-mentioned agencies to Kripa to reach out to our target group with efficiency and commitment.
